Subject: Important Syn-Tac and Crestline announcement

As a valued dealer of ours I would like to share this important announcement, released today, with you.

“Pamarco is delighted to announce the sale of their Syn-Tac roller and Crestline product lines to Ryobi Press Parts. Established in 1922, under the original company name of Chicago Manifold Products, Syn-Tac is without doubt the pre-eminent roller brand in the small press market. Commenting on the sale Bill Ford, President Pamarco, stated “Darren, Paul and the rest of the team at Ryobi Press Parts have been a close partner of ours for years. In a challenging time for this sector of the print industry, their strong entrepreneurial and innovative approach to business has seen them buck the trend, and grow year on year. When we made the decision that our focus moving forward was going to be our products for the large press market; Diamond rubber rollers, Sentinel Ink Management System, and anilox rolls, it left us looking for a new home for Syn-Tac, and they were the obvious choice to develop the brand and continue its strong legacy.”

Ryobi Press Parts is the e-commerce leader in pressroom products, providing new and like-new repair parts, rollers, blankets, consumables and manuals to printers worldwide. The acquisition of the Syn-Tac brand adds significant depth to the Ryobi Press Parts press roller portfolio.

Pamarco’s Industrial roller business is not a part of this deal, and will be produced in their Georgia facility moving forward. Pamarco is working to fulfill the current Syn-Tac orders in-house in Wheeling, and thereafter will be selling the remaining stocks on a first come first serve basis. To check the status of your order, or to enquire about stock availability, please contact Alex on +1 (678) 784 0877 or via alex.sayavong@pamarco.com
